

LEBANESE REACH CABINET ACCORD

Four Men Reported Named to Rule—Strike Set for Today May Be Averted

By SAM POPE BREWER

Special to The New York Times
BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 14—Lebanon was reported tonight to have formed a four-man compromise Cabinet.

Details were lacking, but the three-week deadlock on the new Cabinet seemed to have been broken. Lebanese political sources said that the Government was to be handed over to a tight little Cabinet of well-known figures who represent both sides in the long Lebanese crisis.

The names given were Hassan Oueini, a former Premier; Premier Rashid Karami, whose present Cabinet was not expected to receive the approval of parliament; Pierre Gemayel, who has been leading the revolt against Mr. Karami, and Raymond Eddé, who was the only rival candidate when Gen. Fouad Chehab was elected President by the Lebanese Parliament on Sept. 23.

Strike May Be Averted

It could not be learned tonight how the portfolios would be distributed. If this Cabinet is accepted it may avert a crippling general strike that was called for tomorrow in the United Trades Unions, which planned to cut off electricity and water for this city's population of 500,000.

Some workers were warned that they might be shot if they tried to defy the strike order.

The United Trade Unions warned yesterday that unless the political crisis was settled before tomorrow they would go on strike. They include the workers in the city's electric power plant, in the waterworks in all the banks and in the port. The union group demanded settlement of the crisis to insure the security of workers after two workmen in the tobacco monopoly were shot dead on their way to their jobs yesterday.

Capital Faced Tie-up

The compromise Cabinet may avert a tie-up of this capital. Normally, the Lebanese Cabinet has eight ministers representing the various religious communities. There have been proposals for larger Cabinets to bring in more elements. The last Cabinet, the largest in Lebanon's history, had fourteen ministers for reasons of politics, not administration.

The new Cabinet, if approved, will represent two elements that rebelled against the last Government and two that supported it.

This is the first real compromise move in the political crisis that has tormented Lebanon since last May 9. It appears to be the first hope of a real settlement.

BURMA TO END AMNESTY

Insurgents Have Until Oct. 31 to Accept Premier's Offer

RANGOON, Burma, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—Premier Nu said today the amnesty he offered to Burmese Communist insurgents last June would be withdrawn Oct. 31.

This would enable the caretaker government under Gen. Ne Win to have a free hand in dealing with the insurgent problem when it took over for six months Oct. 23.

U Nu called on the general, chief of staff of the Burmese Army, to head an interim government Sept. 26.

Asked if "guided democracy" might be suitable for Burma, Premier Nu declared: "I do not believe in guided democracy." He said he did not think the Communists had a very good chance in the coming elections, adding that he would not welcome the support of any pro-Communist party to form a government after the elections. He promised to support Gen. Ne Win in any action he might take against the Communists.

Troops From Lebanon Back

Special to The New York Times
BONN, Germany, Oct. 14—A shipload of United States Army troops withdrawn from Lebanon arrived at Bremerhaven today. A total of 1,104 soldiers transferred from the Navy transport General Leroy Ellinge to trucks and special trains for the last stage of their trip "home." The troops, drawn from eleven service and engineer units stationed in southern Germany, were flown to Lebanon in July.

2 Ousted German Reds Flee
BERLIN, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Two former East German Communist party officials have fled to asylum in the West, a Communist party newspaper reported today. Neues Deutschland said Heinz Brandt, former assistant party chief in East Berlin, and Kurt Ludwig, political adviser of the East German railway system, had been ousted from their posts for various moral and political offenses.

SOCIALIST DEPUTIES

MAUL FOES IN TOKYO

Special to The New York Times
TOKYO, Oct. 14—Socialist legislators forcibly occupied a committee chamber of Japan's Diet (Parliament) today and kept out conservative members who had planned to discuss a bill to strengthen police powers against illegal strikers and violent demonstrations.

About eighty Socialist members, assisted by twenty male secretaries, manhandled nineteen representatives of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party and about forty Diet guards when they tried to break through the human cordon blocking the entrance to the room.

By tonight about 150 Socialists were in possession of the committee room. After four attempts by Liberal-Democrats and guards failed to dislodge the Socialists, a few conservatives secured a beachhead in the room by a flank attack through side door.

At 10:40 P. M., leaders of both parties agreed that the room should be vacated by all. This was the sixth consecutive day on which a Socialist boycott of regular sessions prevented major legislative business, although a few other committees met without Socialist attendance.

STONE OF KNESSET LAID

Work on Israeli Parliament Building to Start in March

Special to The New York Times
JERUSALEM, Oct. 14—The cornerstone of a permanent home for Israel's Knesset (Parliament) was laid here today.

The site of the Israeli £6,000,000 ($3,300,300) structure is a rocky hilltop on the western edge of Jerusalem. Construction will start in March.

Funds for it were given by the late James A. de Rothschild, British banker and philanthropist. His widow put a scroll in the cornerstone that proclaimed the foundation stone was "a symbol of the permanence of the state of Israel" and a symbol of Israel's determination to hold the City of Jerusalem as her permanent capital.

Most nations, including the United States and the Soviet Union, still refuse to recognize Jerusalem as Israel's capital.

U.S. Military Group in Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 14 (AP)—An eight-man United States military mission arrived in Amman today to survey the organization, administration and equipment of Jordan's army. Brig. Gen. Richard Risden is head of the mission. An informed source said the mission's visit might be the prelude for further United States military aid.

consider the comfort of owning a warm and lightweight plaid shirt... by Lanerossi

This hand-washable Game and Lake shirt by Lanerossi is a marvel! It has the look and warmth of flannel, but it's far lighter, and more comfortable. The secret of this is in the deft blending of Italian woolsens with viscose rayon. And note these hallmarks of a really superior shirt: single-needle tailoring throughout; perfect matching of patterns, even at the pocket and cuffs. Stripes, plaids, overlaid in tans, blues, grays, reds; small, medium, large, extra large.
