The New Federal Reserve Governor

Regarding the selection of George L. Harrison as governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, Charles E. Mitchell, president of National City Bank, said:

"In view of his recognized understanding of central banking both here and abroad, his close association for the past six years with Benjamin Strong, and his pronounced strength in personality, the public will regard with satisfaction the selection of George L. Harrison as governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York."