HARRISON TO VISIT WORLD BANK CHIEFS: He Will Sail Tonight to Confer ... -Silent on Topics of Talk.

George L. Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, will sail tonight to confer with representatives of the world banks who are in session in Paris, a meeting of the directors of the Bank for International Settlements.

It will be Mr. Harrison's first visit to Europe since the outbreak of the war and he will have a conference with the world bankers to discuss the situation in the world's money markets. The meeting of the directors of the Bank for International Settlements is to be held in Paris.

Mr. Harrison will arrive in Paris on Monday and will attend the meeting of the directors on Tuesday.

The Bank for International Settlements is an international bank established in Basel, Switzerland, to provide a clearing house for international financial transactions and to promote confidence in the stability of the world's monetary system.

The bank's directors are representatives of the world's central banks and are meeting to discuss the current financial situation.

Mr. Harrison will be accompanied by a group of American bankers and economists who will attend the meeting as observers.

The meeting of the directors of the Bank for International Settlements is to be held in Paris.

It is expected that Mr. Harrison will remain in Europe for several days, during which time he will meet with other world bankers to discuss the situation in the world's money markets.
