English Rabbi Delivers to Dr.
S. G. Wise New Statement on Question of War

In the first public declaration on the Jewish question since the outbreak of the war, Arthur Greenwood, who is known as the "Jewish Churchill," issued a message to the British public, saying: "The Jewish people are in your debt. Their leaders have pledged their support to the war effort. The Jewish people are grateful for your kindness and your support.

The Jewish people are pledging their support to the war effort. They are ready to do their part.
