Carter withdraws Ford nominations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Carter probably will announce by noon tomorrow that he is withdrawing the Ford nominations in the Democratic Party primaries.

White House sources indicated that the withdrawal would be announced today at 11 a.m. in Washington.

Mrs. Edith P. Ford, FDR's daughter, told the Associated Press last night she was aware of the plan and had been informed of the decision in advance.

The sources said it would be a formality for Ford, 66, and his running mate, Tennessee Governor Ray Blanton, to withdraw from the contest.

The decision was made after three days of consideration, during which time Ford's health was reviewed, sources added.

It was reported that the withdrawal would not be accompanied by any public statement or speech by the candidates, who have been campaigning in the primaries in recent weeks.

Ford's decision was made after consultation with Carter and his Democratic Party leaders, sources said.

The withdrawal will likely have little impact on the primary race, as Ford is not expected to carry any delegate votes in the upcoming contests.

Ford's choice of Blanton as his running mate was announced last week, and the two candidates had been campaigning in the South and West in recent days.

The withdrawal is expected to be announced at the White House on Monday, according to sources.

Mrs. Ford, who has supported her husband in the primaries, will also be in the White House for the announcement.

The withdrawal was made after some deliberation, sources added.

It was reported that the withdrawal will not affect Carter's chances for the nomination, as he is expected to win most of the remaining primaries.
